CITY AND DISTRICT.

Objects to Survey Lines.

A survey of 15th street between the bureau of engraving and printing and the propagating gardens was made by the District authorities a few months ago, for the purpose of establishing the building, parking, sidewalk and curb lines. Col. Theo. A. Bingham, in charge of public buildings and grounds, at whose request the survey was made, has informed the District Commissioners that he will be unable to accept the lines fixed by the survey, as they inter fere with the buildings on the grounds, and fere with the buildings on the grounds, that would also interfere with a large warehouse shortly to be eracted. The Commissioners have, therefore, decided to treat 15th street at the point in question as a part of the parking, and in that case is within the jurisdiction of the War Department.

Unconscious From Effects of Gas.

Cheap excursion rates and the peac jubilee celebration attracted Samuel Baker here from his home at Rappahannock, Va. His trip came near resulting in his death, because of his inexperience. There is no gas at Rappahannock, and when the boy reached here nobody instructed him about its use. Whether he blew out the light in ids room or made a mistake in turning it off he hardly remembers. The fact remains that he was found unconscious in his room at the lodging house where he stopped, and had it not been for the effective work of Drs. THE COUNTRY'S DEAD

Observance of Memorial Day at Arlington Cemetery.

SERVICES OVER HEROES OF TWO WARS

Some Leading Features of the Program of Exercises.

THE NAVAL SERVICES

Memorial day will be celebrated in Washington and at Arlington National cemetery Tuesday next with the appropriate service: arranged for honoring the patriot dead. The services will this year be of greater mport than ever before, for the heroes of two wars now lie buried in the beautiful city of the dead overlooking the Potomae. The grand old men who fought for the preservation of the Union in '61 and '65 will be joined on this occasion by the younger warriors of the campaign of '98, who fought against a foreign foe, in bedecking the graves and cherishing the memory of their comrades in the two great conflicts of the generation. In view of the importence of Memorial day of 1899, in its new phases and significance, the effort is being made to have the principal services at Arlington on a greater and more imposing scale than ever before. The two-fold meaning of the day now draws together the peo-ple of all sections, and the participation will be general.

According to time-honored custom, the Grand Army of the Republic is in charge of the preparations, and its officers of the Department of the Potomac will be in act ive command of the ceremonies at the dif ferent cemeteries and places of memorial gatherings throughout the District and at Arlington. The preparations have been delayed somewhat this year on account of the part taken in the jubilee celebration by the Grand Army. With the close of the cele-bration tomorrow, however, the commitwho have in hand Memorial day mat ters will press their work to early comple-tion. The complete program has not been made-out, but the important features have been arranged, and are of a character to give assurance of the dignity and splendid eloquence of the solemn occasion.

Important Feature.

An important feature of this year's celebration of the day, a feature of which the public was deprived last year by the exigencies of war, will be the parade of the District of Columbia National Guard and its escort of the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, who will make a martial display in the city proper before poarding the cars for Arlington National y. The Naval Battalion of the militia will also be in the line of cemetery. march, its initial participation in an even of this kind. The National Guard will turn out its full strength on Memorial day, as the legal holiday will allow a full representation of the militiamen in the ranks of their respective commands. The showing is ex-pected to be a credit to the organization The Naval Battalion is sure to attract its lue share of attention and admiration. The heroic old veterans, battle-scarred id time-beaten, will, however, be the real that time-order, wit, however, he the toat feature of the day's parade and ceremonies. Their escort will be a fitting one. The guard will assemble early in the morning, according to orders issued from militia headquarters, and will march up Pennsyl-vania avenue from the armory at 5th street about 9:30 o'clock. The various posts of the Grand Army will have assem-oled by this time in front of their hall hear 15th street. As the guard passes the men will present arms in salute of the venerable soldiers of the civil war. The parade will continue up 15th street to H and then will find its way back to the armory via 11th street and the avenue. Here ranks will break, and those of the guardsmen who desire to be present at the Arlington services will go on the cars.

The Usual Celebrations.

There will be the usual celebrations this lahan, leader. The Frawley year at Arlington, both in the amphitheater furnish the dramatic part of the enterand in front of the Lee mansion, the latter being the naval feature of the day; at Congressional cemetery, Soldiers' Home, Northeast Temple, St. Elizabeth's, Oak Hill Chas. King. One of Washington's wellbeing the naval feature of the day; at Congressional cemetery, Soldiers' Home, Northcemetery, Holy Rood cemetery and Har-mony cemetery. The presiding officers at these various places are now engaged in completing their programs and they will be announced in The Star later.

The orator of the day at Arlington will be Mr. Webster Davis, assistant secretary of the Interior, the presiding officer being Gen. Calvid Farnsworth, department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic. The Marine Band will be in attendance. President and members of his cabinet will be gathered in the grand stand there, and it is expected that the members of the diplomatic corps in the city will respond to the invitations extended them to be present. The various details of the program have not been completed, but will be in the next Woman's Relief Corps.

The Woman's Relief Corps has made ar rangements to carry on its memorial work on the same grand plan that has been followed in the past. In the decoration of the graves this year the soldiers who died in Cuba or were killed in the conflict with the Spaniards will be taken into account and emembered by fair hands. A detail of the National Guard will decorate handsomely the graves of the dead of the District regi-ment who lie beneath Arlington's sod. The general staff of the National Guard will place the customary floral tribute on the grave of Gen. Ordway, once the commanding officer.

The naval feature of the Arlington ceremonles will this year, it is understood, be more elaborate and of a higher order than for many years past. These services which will be held from a stand erected in front of the mansion, will be in charge of Col. W. H. Michael, chizf clerk of the State Department. The speakers will include Senator Thurston of Nebraska, Rev. Frank Senator Thurston of Nebraska, Rev. Frank M. Bristol of this city, Henry M. Hoyt, as-sistant attorney general, and Dr. W. D. Mabry, the well-known writer.

"THE DANCING GIRL."-An actress of whom Washington theater-goers have heard much praise and are correspondingly anxious to see, Miss Blanche Bates, will head the Frawley company next week, playing the role of Drusilla Ives in "The Dancing Girl." to the duke of Mr. Frawley. It was in Mr. Frawley's San Francisco company that Miss Bates gained the training which, added to talents inherited from theatrical parents, has made her the most phenomenal young actress of the day. In his speech before the curtain on Monday night the author of "Private John Allen" took occasion to congratulate the theater-goers of Washington on their coming op-portunity to see one of the most remarkable young actresses of the English-speak-ing stage. This unsolicited tribute to Miss Bates merely follows out the reception she met with from the best critics of New York. Although almost entirely unknown in the east, her two remarkable performances of the adventuress in "The Great Ruby" and Miladi in "The Musketeers," made her the topic of the town. The critics were unanimous in their opinion that Miss Bates captured the principal honors of the performance. Says the New York News: "James O'Neill is featured on the program as the star in the role of D'Artagnan, but the honors were all with Miss Bates, who impersonated Miladi." The Mall and Express says: "The success of the evening was achieved by Miss Blanche Bates," while Alan Dale in the Journal declares that "Miladi was the most interesting fea-ture of the Liebler show." In "The Danc-ing Girl" Miss Bates has the role of the wicked Quaker maid, who lures a noble lord almost to destruction, and in this character she achieved her great success on the Pacific coast. Mr. Frawley, too, made a reputation as the duke, while Georgia Welless was a success as the little lame girl who eventually wine the duke. lame girl, who eventually wins the duke away from Drusilla. "ROMEO AND JULIET."-The New York triumph of Maude Adams in "Romeo and Juliet" has been repeated in Boston, and before opening her engagement at the hub the entire four performances which conclude tonight, were sold out. The balance of the week will be distributed between Springfield, Albany and Brooklyn, and the same interest has been manifested in these favored cities. The three days allotted to Philadelphia, beginning next Monday, will be red letter events in the city of brotherly love, and on Thursday, June 1, a special train will convey Miss Adams and her company to Washington, where a royal wel-come awaits her at the New National Theater. The advance sale of seats progresses rapidly for this special appearance, but there yet remain many choice seats that may be had by early purchasers.

"MONTE CARLO GIRLS" .- "Monte Carlo Girls" burlesquers will be the attraction at Kernan's next week, introducing the funniest comedians, most eccentric dancers, swegtest singers and twenty of the prettiest and most beautifully costumed girls that have ever appeared in a burlesque chorus, making in all one of the most artistic combinations before the public. The following is a star cast of famous entertainers: Brothers Abacco, acrobats; Eva Swine-burne, the singer and lady monologue entertainer; William G. Fields, the tramp jug-gler; Dumont sisters, vocalists; West and Thompson, in a quaint and funny sketch, introducing their original burlesque harp song and dance; the passion bare-foot dancers, and Byron G. Harlan, the western tenor, illustrating the latest song hits, not to mention the large chorus of girls and "kiki" dancers.

THE BIJOU THEATER.-The curtain at the Bijou rose today at noon for the mat-inee performance, and the same will occur tomorrow, thus enabling those who attend the vaudeville to view the jubilee parades and pageants later in the afternoon. The De Arcos are a decided feature this week. Monday night Mr. De Arco was the recipient of a handsome floral horseshoe from his former associates in the bureau of engraving and printing. Miss Bertle De Arco is well received at each performance FOR THE HOUSE OF GOOD SHEP-HERD.-A concert and dramatic entertainment in aid of the House of Good Shepherd, a most worthy institution of this city, will be given next Tuesday afternoon at the Columbia Theater. The House of Good Shepherd have heretofore received an ap-propriation from Congress each year, but this Congress cut them off with no appropriation and the home is sadly in need of funds to keep it alive. The Georgetown Glee Club, under the direction of George Herbert Wells, will appear, and also the Georgetown Mandolin Club, John Wm. Halknown quartet, consisting of Mrs. Nellie Wilson-Shireliff, Mrs. Margaret Nolan Martin, Wm. D. McFarland, John H. Nolan, have also volunteered their services. The entertainment is to be given under the auspices of Mrs. Edward D. White, the Misses Riges, Mrs. John C. O'Donnell, Mrs. Thomas H. Carter, Viscountess de Santo Thyrso, Mrs. Francis M. Ramsay, Mrs. Acosta, Mrs. Boardman, Mrs. Bayne, Mrs. George E. Hamilton, Mrs. Robert Hinckley, Mrs. J. Maury Dove, Mrs. Thomas E. Wag-gaman, Miss Morris, Miss McMillan, Miss Roach and Miss Patten.

The Dutch Are Good Sailors. To the Editor of The Evening Star:

I noticed in your editorial yesterday referring to the Paris disaster the statement that good sailors are to be found only among the Americans, English and Germans. Perhaps Holland because of her littleness was overlooked in this enumeration, otherwise the Dutch would have been tion, otherwise the Dutch would have been included. The world has always acknowledged their superiority on the sea, and the most important expeditions for exploration and profit have been led by them from Barentz, Van Tasman, Van Tromp and De Ruyter down to Van der See, who recently made his hundredth voyage on the Holland line without having bad a single misher. line without having had a single mishap.

The Dutchman is a born sailor. At an early age he becomes a skipper, using his wooden shoe for a boat, a cabbage leaf for a sail and the drainage ditches for his ocean.

AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN.

Items Gathered at Points West of Police Regulations Concerning Them Rock Creek. James H. Smith, a nineteen-year-old colored boy, was arrested resterday afternoon by Policeman Easley, the officer who captured Armstead Taylor, and held on a charge of cruelty to animals. This morning in the Police Court the prisoner was fined $25, in default of payment of which he will serve three menths in the work house. Smith, with a companion, drove out in Maryland several hours before his arrest, the horse going free. On the return the horse was seen to be exhausted, and the driver wore out a whip urging him on, then using a club to force the weary beast. At the Tenleytown and Loughborough roads the horse could proceed no further, and it was here that the arrest occurred. William Krause was attending to his stable duties yesterday afternoon in Congress street alley, when William Diggs, a colored man appeared in front of the place colored man, appeared in front of the place and committed a nuisance. Krause expos-tulated with him, which maddened Diggs, and he immediately proceeded to stone the talker. Krause sought refuge in the hay loft of the stable, with bricks and stone flying after him. Policeman Berryman flying after him. Policeman Berryman caught Diggs and held him on a charge of disorderly conduct and with throwing missiles. This morning in the Police Court the negro was given a total fine of $15 for both offenses, with the alternative of spending forty-five days on the farm. He went Mr. Thomas J. GARBAGE CANS.

Amended by Commissioners. To provide means whereby the use of milk cans and similar vessels as receptacles for garbage can be prevented, the District Commissioners, upon the recommendation of Dr. Wm. C. Woodward, the health officer, have amended section 2 of article 14 follows "Section 2. Occupants of dwelling houses proprietors of boarding houses, commission warehouses, hotels, restaurants and other places where garbage is accumulated, and owners or occupants of apartment or tene-ment houses shall provide for the use of such premises a sufficient number of receptacles to contain all garbage which may accumulate on said premises during the usual interval between the collections of garbage therefrom, and shall keep such receptacles at all times in good repair. Each such receptacle shall be made of metal, water tight, provided with a tight cover with a handle, and shall be so constructed that the contents can be removed therefrom easily and without delay. No person without a permit from the health officer shall use for the reception of garbage any receptacle having a capacity of less than three nor more than ten gallons, nor more than one receptacle containing less than ten gallons."

The receptacles prohibited by the amendment, by reason of the constriction near the top, cause unnecessary delay and labor in the removal of their contents.

VIOLATES LAW.

Miss Ellen Eldred's Efforts at Reform Disapproved.

Ellen E. Eldred was today charged before Judge Kimball with vagrancy. The evidence showed that the woman is in the nabit of visiting various saloons and distributing a tract, entitled "Dialogue between Ellen E. Eldred and a Washington saloon keeper. Price but little-Just a Messrs. John L. Burkart and nickel." Lewis Bush said that Miss Eldred came into their places and laid tracts before men at the bar and at the tables. Mr. Pugh claimed the fact that the price asked for the paper was 5 cents when it was worth nothing made Miss Eldred's operations a species of begging.

Judge Kimball said if Miss Eldred went into a saloon for the purpose of warning men against the danger of liquor drinking there would be no legal objection, but when she indicated on her tract that she wanted cents for the tract, she was on the same plane as organ grinders, lead pencil sellers and others who seek to get money without giving an adequate return for it. Miss Eldred asked if those who sell the Salvation Army War Cry are not also beggars.

The court answered in the negative—their paper being worth the money.
"Suppose I reduce the price to 1 cent, can I continue to visit the saleons?" inquired "No," was the court's reply, "If you are engaged in a charitable work, do that. You can go in a saloon once, but the pro-prietor can put you out. You may go."

CARE OF CHILDREN.

Inquiry Answered Concerning Conditions in the District. District Commissioners recently received a communication from Mr. Thomas Campbell-Copeland of 137 East 15th street, tion in your family? New York, stating that an investigation is in progress in that city for the purpose of ascertaining in what manner the future well-being of newsboys, bootblacks and other male child-workers may be advanced. The writer explained to the Commissioners that steps are being taken to supplement the efforts of the numerous societies and associations working toward the advancement of such children in a practical manner, and that in order that those interested in the movement may work to the best possible advantage, it is essential that existing conditions in other cities should be ascertained. To this end the inquirer sub-mitted a number of inquiries, which he de-sired the Commissioners to answer, as to the age of the children; restriction as to lateness of hours on the streets; as to school attendance, and like questions. One of the inquiries was 'Is any provision made in the District for homeless newsboys and bootblacks in the matter of education, shellocal newspapers an organized staff of newsboys in uniform under their orders?"

Replying to the inquiries, the Commissioners have informed Mr. Campbell-Copeland that there is a newsboys and children's aid society here, limited in its work to newsboys and bootblacks at the time it was organized, but which very soon extend-ed its work to other classes of children; that the society maintains an institution o considerable size, including a school, read-ing rooms, gymnasium and a dormitory, and that newsboys are encouraged to join the classes. Also, that the society secures homes and employment for the boys when possible, and that the dally average in the institution during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1898, was 43.

Children's Whitsuntide Services. Last Sunday the Church of Our Savior of Brookland held the children's Whitsuntide exercises, which were attended by a large gathering from both Washington and Brookland. This was the first time such a service had been held by the Episcopal Church in that suburb, a fact which added much to its interest and novelty. The exarcises took the form of a lengthy procession, led by little Paul Armstrong carry-ing the cross, followed by the choir and the pastor, Rev. Mr. Williams, and Mr. Wm. Quinn, superintendent of the Sunday school. Behind these came Louis Holland with the Sunday school banner, the rib-bons of which were held by two little girls. Then followed the Sunday school. The whole procession marched up the center alsie, dividing at the top and going down the side alsles, joining again at the base of the church and returning up the center also to the places prepared for the children and choir.

All the girls were dressed in white, while the boys were as light clothes as possible. The march was directed by Mrs. Guy Camp and Miss Mearle Barton. The altar and chancel were banked with flowers, which filled the whole church with a delightful perfume. The exercises consisted of hymns by the children and address by the superintendent, Mr. Quinn. The whole service was grand and impressive in its simplicity. Fine Carriages for Hire

Preparing to Extend Washington's

Welcome to the Hero of Manila.

This city will extend a welcome to Admiral Dewey on his return to this country. The preliminary steps for the necessary arrangements for such an event were taken at a meeting of the board of directors of the Washington board of trade which was held yesterday at the rooms of the board, 1410 G street northwest. A resolution was adopted requesting the Comof the police regulations so as to read as lution was adopted requesting the Commissioners to appoint a committee of citizens to make preparations for Washington's welcome to the hero of Manila, and also to represent the District in all matters pertaining to the reception of the admiral on the occasion of his return to this country and to the national capital. The board also indorsed the movement which has been started to present to Admiral
